

Writing

The progressive objectives for writing identify what pupils should know by the end of each year group and link to prior learning. These are organised into a sequence of progressive strands taken from the National Curriculum for Years 1 to 6 and enable teachers to identify and plug gaps in pupil's knowledge and skills.

The programmes of study for writing at key stages 1 and 2 are constructed into two main dimensions:

- Transcription (spelling and handwriting)
 - Phonic and whole word spelling
 - Additional Spelling
 - Handwriting
- Composition (articulating ideas and structuring them in speech and writing)
 - Planning writing
 - Drafting writing
 - Editing writing
 - Performing writing
 - Vocabulary
 - Grammar
 - Punctuation
 - Grammar Terminology

Teaching develops pupils' competence in these two dimensions. Writing down ideas fluently depends on effective transcription: that is, on spelling quickly and accurately through knowing the relationship between sounds and letters (phonics) and understanding the morphology (word structure) and orthography (spelling structure) of words. Effective composition involves forming, articulating and communicating ideas, and then organising them coherently for a reader. This requires clarity, awareness of the audience, purpose and context, and an increasingly wide knowledge of vocabulary and grammar. Pupils are also taught a fluent, legible and, eventually, speedy handwriting style.

Contexts for writing

The progressive strands are explored and applied in the following contexts for writing:

EYFS / Key Stage 1

- Narratives about personal experiences and those of others (real and fictional)
- Writing about real events
- Poetry
- Writing for different purposes

Key Stage 2

- Discuss writing similar to that which they are planning to write in order to understand and learn from its structure, vocabulary and grammar
- Identify the audience for and purpose of the writing, selecting the appropriate form and using other similar writing as models for their own

End points

By the end of EYFS, pupils will:

- Be able to write recognisable letters, most of which are correctly formed.
- Be able to spell words by identifying sounds in them and representing the sounds with a letter or letters.
- Be able to write simple phrases and sentences that can be read by others.
- Show good control and co-ordination in their small movements.
- Handle equipment and tools effectively, including pencils for writing.

By the end of Key Stage 1 children will:

- Be able to write narratives, both real and fictional.
- Be able to write using past and present tense mostly correctly and consistently.
- Be able to demarcate sentences using capital letters, full stops and question marks most accurately. Spell most common exception words correctly.
- Show consistency in letter sizing.

By the end of Key Stage 2 children will:

- Be able to reflect their understanding of the audience for and purpose of their writing by selecting appropriate vocabulary and grammar.
- Be able to consciously control sentence structure in their writing and understand why sentences are constructed, using a range of devices to build cohesion within and across paragraphs.
- Use a range of punctuation and maintain tense throughout a piece of writing, spelling most words correctly, or being able to use resources quickly and efficiently in order to support spelling.
- Be able to consistently join their handwriting.
- Understand nuances in vocabulary choice and age-appropriate, academic vocabulary.

A typical teaching sequence in writing will cover the following aspects:-

1. Familiarisation

- To familiarise the children with the model text (text type, structure and language) and establish a purpose and audience for writing
- Devise success criteria for a specific audience (staples, substance and sparkles)

- To introduce children to vocabulary (tier 2, tier 3 and spellings from statutory lists)
- Activities
 - Oral rehearsal
 - Dictation opportunities
 - Drama
 - Short write opportunities

2. Teaching and rehearsing

- Introduce or revisit progressive objectives relevant to the text type - revise and recall prior knowledge and skills.
- A sequence of lessons breaking down progressive objectives into smaller steps
- Deepening of knowledge through identification, application and writers craft activities
- Misconceptions identified and addressed throughout teaching sequence and lots of opportunities for children to practise and recall key skills and knowledge.

3. Application

- Plan independent written outcome, ensuring lots of opportunities for oral rehearsal first
- Opportunities for drafting, editing and publishing a piece of writing in the style of the model text, paying particular attention to form audience, purpose and style.
- Assessment of children's written outcomes.
- Edit and improve written outcomes.
- Share/perform writing with intended audience

Progressive Objectives

Our progressive objectives show what pupils should know and be able to do in each strand of writing by the end of each year group. These are used to support planning and the ongoing assessments of pupils' work.
